Dear Mr. Greenwood:

I am writing to confirm our telephone conversation of January 16, 1992.

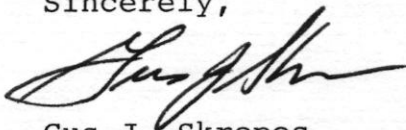

Yesterday, I indicated to you that I currently have an active campaign committee and bank account which I opened and established prior to my election to the Ontario City Council in November of 1990. I told you that since the election I have done some fundraising to extinguish a campaign debt and raise some funds for expenses during my term of office. You, as well as others in your organization, indicated that this was no problem utilizing the existing committee.

I inquired about the mechanism I should use to raise funds for my re-election campaign in 1994. Specifically, I wanted to know if I should open a new bank account and committee, or, amend the existing committee and account via forms 501 and 502. You inquired and told me that I should use the existing organization and account and file the amended forms indicating the 1994 election date. You said that this would be appropriate if I was not carrying a debt from my last campaign.

Per your advice, I am enclosing the amended forms 501 and 502 you requested.

I would like to express my appreciation for your assistance in clearing up my confusion on this matter.

Sincerely,

Gus J. Skropos
